Elizabeth Kenwood is an oboist, bassoonist, and recorder player who grew up in Weymouth, Dorset. She trained at the Royal Academy of Music, London, where she obtained her music degree and diplomas for performance and teaching for oboe and recorder.

Elizabeth had amazing opportunities for further music studies abroad, studying as a post-graduate student in the Netherlands and in Canada, thanks to scholarships from the Countess of Munster Musical Trust, and a Rotary International Scholarship.

Elizabeth has performed widely throughout the UK, Europe, Canada, South-East Asia, Ukraine and Belarus, as an oboe soloist with piano, and has toured for the British Council. Her orchestral work includes playing in the Gran Canaria Philharmonic Orchestra, the National Festival Orchestra, the Amici Orchestra, Yorkshire Chamber Orchestra, and Pro Musica.

Teaching is a big part of Elizabeth's career and she has taught for many leading independent schools, in Somerset, Berkshire, West Sussex, and Hampshire, as well as in Yorkshire. She works for Artforms Leeds, and has taught in the Leeds and Bradford areas for many years.

Many former students have gone on to study at leading Music Colleges, Universities, and Chethams, with some students becoming professional musicians.
