- Message from the English Department—As a student has had to pull out of the writing trip to Wales (30.06 - 05.07.25), we now have a last-minute space available. This is a fantastic opportunity to develop your writing skills in a range of genres and styles with tuition from professional authors while staying in comfortable accommodation on the Welsh coast. We can't guarantee sunshine, but we can guarantee a memorable and restful week. We actually have room for up to two more people if anyone is interested - please see Mrs Parris in the English office for more details.
